

MENDING CAMBRIDGE:

AS PART OF THE #METOO MOVEMENT

MARCH 1 IS WHITE RIBBON DAY

JOIN US TO TAKE THE PLEDGE AND CONTINUE THE CONVERSATION ABOUT WHAT MEN CAN DO IN THE #METOO
MOVEMENT TO WORK TO END SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE

Every single day we see new revelations about sexual harassment, assault and violence by men abusing their power, authority, or fame.

Join us as we identify ways for men and boys to take action to change the culture of discrimination, domination and violence directed against women and girls – and that robs men and boys of their humanity.

DATE: Thursday, March 1

TIME: 4:30 p.m.-6:30 p.m.

PLACE: Cambridge Rindge and Latin School,
Media Cafe
1670 Cambridge Street, Cambridge

Duane de Four is an educator, media critic, and activist with more than 20 years of experience facilitating violence prevention, masculinity, and sexual health focused discussions.

To register please go to:

<https://mendingcambridgewrd2018.eventbrite.com>

Mending Cambridge is a men's leadership group that engages men in challenging stereotypes around masculinity and becoming active allies in working to end gender-based violence. Mending Cambridge is supported through a partnership of the City's Domestic and Gender Based Violence Prevention Initiative and the Cambridge Public Health Department.