HOLOCAUST COMMEMORATION

Recalling all who perished during the Holocaust, this year's program features an evening of music, candle lighting, and remembrance.

Featured Speaker: Israel Arbeiter

The guest speaker is Israel "Izzy" Arbeiter. Mr. Arbeiter is a Holocaust survivor and lifelong rights activist who lost several family members – including both of his parents – in the Holocaust. He spent five years imprisoned by the Third Reich in labor camps and concentration camps, including Auschwitz, and at one point played dead to avoid being executed.

For over 60 years, Mr. Arbeiter has dedicated his life to commemorating the Holocaust and to educating others about it. He has stood up and spoken for the rights of survivors of all races and religions, demanding that the world must remember what has happened, to understand why it happened, and to identify the seeds from which hate grows.

Wednesday, May 7, 2014 • 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.
Temple Beth Shalom • 8 Tremont St., Cambridge

Music will be provided by cellist Lily Bouvier, the Cambridge Community Chorus and the Cambridge Rindge & Latin School Vocal Ensemble.

The program is free, open to all, and wheelchair accessible. It welcomes all communities of Cambridge – including children and adults, and people of all faiths and traditions.
