

Question #3: What local partnerships or local talent can you identify that could help?
The New School of Music, a non-profit community music school operating in Cambridge for 37 years would be happy to discuss partnerships
Schools, community colleges, trade schools
ECPT, CCF, KSA, non-profits, Tech Stars
Cambridge Creative Commons, Lesley University, Cambridge Arts Council, Cambridge Public Schools, Catalyst Conversations, City of Cambridge
Creativity Commons, Cambridge Arts council, City of Cambridge, Lesley University, MIT Media, MIT CAST
Anne Spark Productions, The Artisans Asylum, Rozann Kraus (Dancer, Founder of the Dance complex), Dr. Blain Frederick (researcher at the Mclean Hospitals Brain Imaging Center)
Longy community, Independent artists & writers, Rozann Krauss
CRA, Tim Rowe @ CIC
Artists living in Cambridge/Studio space in general being too expensive
CIC, Harvest co-op, CityFeed
MIT Museum, Deborah Douglas and Museum of Science, Marc Check, Education, Schools, both public universities.
East End House, Deborah Mason
Cambridge Community FDN, Longy Teachers, Community Theater Groups, East End House, Cambridge Creative Commons, Cambridge Symphony Orchestra
Local neighbors who have various abilities: dance instruction, art instruction, experienced folks of all ages with life experiences to impart. Tap into MIT & Harvard volunteers to address learning
Local neighbors with specific talents, students from MIT, Harvard & other local Universities
Somerville Artisan's Asylum, Children's Museum, CIC, Alex Ezobsky-lie
Very excited to see it be a STEAM Bldg w/added innovative 4 profit and non-profit
Want the bldg to be accessible to all, not another bldg that local residents & youth are discouraged from participating in North Bennet St School, Souchy for Arts & Crafts, Cambridge Center for Adult Ed, Haley House, Future Chefs, Mitt Media lab, Community Cooks, Urban Canners, Green City Growers, Gather Here & Charlie Sullivan
Art Technology New England
The Cambridge Historical Society, the Cambridge ARTs Association, MIT Museum, Harvard University Archives
Paula Evans pevans@cccbridge.org former principal
Cambridge Arts Council, Artistspaceboston.org, Mass Cultural Council
This questions lend itself to the "ballot stuffing" mentality. People from 'ABC Innovators R Us' get all their friends to fill out the ballot and lo and behold you come away with "the community" wanting ABC Innovators... I think a logical choice is to move the office of the Cambridge Arts Council to the Foundry which will give you a tenant who can also maintain/manage the artistic common spaces. more: I am currently on the advisory board of the arts council but I have no idea what their official position is....just giving you what I think.
The East Cambridge Planning team. The Cambridge resident who runs the former brewery space in Jamaica Plain.