Produced by the Crime Analysis Unit

Part I Total Crime

A review of serious crime statistics for the first month of 2018 (from January 1st to January 29th) points to a substantive decrease of 13% in the Part One index total for Cambridge. During January of this year, there were 125 serious crimes reported in the City. For the same time period in 2017, the combined total for Murder, Rape, Robbery, Aggravated Assault, Burglary, Larceny & Auto theft was 143 incidents, 18 more than this year. When measured against the five-year average, a sizeable 30% drop in the crime index has been registered.

Further analysis of the crime totals for January of 2018 indicates that violent crimes registered a 19% increase to start the year, while property crimes continued their downward dive with 22 fewer crimes (-18%) reported when compared with January of 2017. There were no confirmed cases of shots being fired in Cambridge for the first 29 days of 2018.

When measuring the serious crime totals of January 2018 versus the previous month of December 2017, there has been a significant dip of 19% in the number of index incidents with 29 fewer crimes counted in the first month of this year. The 81% decrease in housebreaks when compared with the previous month was the key indicator fueling this decline.

Part I Violent Crime

From January 1st to January 29th of 2018, there were 25 violent crimes recorded in Cambridge, four incidents above last year (+19%) and six more violent crimes (+32%) than in the previous month, December of 2017.

With seven robberies counted in the first month of 2018, there was an increase of two incidents (+40%) when compared with last January. Six of the seven robberies in January were categorized as commercial in nature. There was only one street robbery reported in Cambridge during the first month of the year.

The majority of the incline in violent crime this month can be attributed to an uptick in reported rapes from zero in January of 2017 to three this year. Two of these sexual assaults were categorized as acquaintance scenarios and the other was a contact situation. Six of the 15 aggravated assaults were categorized as domestic arguments that elevated into violent altercations.

Characteristics of Murder in Cambridge

For the 30-year period between 1960 and 1989, the City of Cambridge averaged slightly less than five murders per year. The annual average since 1990 has fallen to approximately two per year. Trend analysis over recent years points to two recurring murder scenarios in Cambridge: domestic murder, in which one family member is brutally killed by another in a homicidal rage, and the murder of young males by a handgun or knife in acts of retaliatory street violence.

Cambridge Murder Statistics, 1990-2016

- 58 people murdered in 53 incidents (in 4 of the incidents, 2 or more people were killed)
- 39 victims were male (average age of 34)
- 19 victims were female (average age of 41)
- Most common weapons: handguns (27 incidents) and knives (13 incidents)
- 17 of the 53 cases are still under investigation or remain unsolved
- 24 of the 32 cases since 2000 have been cleared by arrest or by the death of the suspect, including all three murders in both 2013 and 2015, and one of the two murders in 2014. There have been no arrests in the two murders in 2016.

Unsolved Murders: 1999 to 2016

Colin Burton, 30, of Dorchester, was shot and killed outside of Hi - Fi Pizza on Mass Ave in Central Square on September 18th, 1999. Burton was talking with the occupants of a Ford Explorer when the subject in the passenger seat fired through the window. Two suspects fled the scene. The case remains under active investigation.

RAPE

No Patterns

- The majority of the incline in violent crime this month can be attributed to an uptick in reported rapes from zero in January of 2017 to three this year. Two of these sexual assaults were categorized as acquaintance scenarios and the other was a contact situation.
- The final analysis indicates that there were 19 rapes reported in Cambridge in 2017, which is 15 incidents (-44%) below the final total recorded for 2016. Seven of the rapes in 2017 were classified as acquaintance, six as domestic, and six were counted as contact scenarios.
- Review of Rapes reported during the Fourth Quarter of 2017: There were no rapes reported in Cambridge in October of 2017, five sexual assaults were reported in November, and one was reported in December.
- Overview on Rape Statistics for the United States released by the FBI on September 30th 2017: There were an estimated 95,730 rapes (legacy definition) reported to law enforcement in 2016. This estimate was 4.9% higher than the 2015 estimate. The rate of cities in the 100,000 to 250,000 population range in 2016 was 34.1 incidents.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

No Patterns

- The aggravated assault total for January of 2018 is one incident (-6%) below the total for the first month of 2017. Conversely, a moderate increase of 15% was accrued over the 5-year average, with two incidents reported above the 13 incidents forecasted for the first month of the year.
- The 15 aggravated assaults reported in January of 2018 were composed of the following classifications: 2 fights among acquaintances; one unprovoked scenario; 6 domestic altercations; one homeless dispute; one assault on a police officer; 3 road rage incidents; and a fight when a drug deal went awry.
- Last January there was an unusually high number of aggravated assaults in Cambridge where a knife was used as the weapon of choice of the assailant. The victims received moderate to serious wounds in five of the incidents. A knife was brandished in three incidents this January with no one stabbed.
- The final numbers for 2017 indicate that there were 173 aggravated assaults reported, 12 incidents more than in 2016 (+7%). When measuring this violent index crime against the 5-year average for the final annual total, there has been a decline of 5%, with 10 crimes below the projected average of 183 aggravated assaults for 2017.

Burglary

No Pattern

- The property index crime of burglary, the combination of residential and commercial breaks, has recorded a monstrous decrease of 72% in January of 2018 when compared to the five-year average, with 21 fewer incidents reported below the projected total of 29 breaks, and has cascaded downward 75% when compared with last year's total for the first month of the year, with 24 fewer burglaries reported.
- Housebreaks plummeted from 29 incidents in the first month of 2017 to 4 (-86%) in January of 2018. During the first week of January of 2017 the CPD issued an alert for a series of housebreaks that were identified as a pattern. During the weekend of January 15th, 2017, a known offender was arrested and this series was eradicated. This was one of the major housebreak patterns in Cambridge in 2017.
- There were only four unrelated commercial burglaries reported in Cambridge during January of this year. There were 49 commercial burglaries recorded in Cambridge in 2017, which translates to a 26% decline below the forecasted 5-year average. The 2016 total for commercial burglary was an historic low for this crime category.

- Overall larceny through the first month of 2018 registered just one incident above the same time frame in 2017. Conversely, the total of 86 larcenies reported year-to-date in 2018 is 31% below the 5-year weighted average of 125 incidents through January.
- After coming off a 22% drop at the end of 2017, larcenies from MVs slipped another 9% during the first month of 2018 when compared with January of last year. Only 10 car thefts were reported this month. This total is also 67% below the 5-year average of 30.
- Larcenies from the person were down 29% in 2017 below the previous year, and that trend has continued in January 2018 with another 22% drop (-2 incidents) below last January. Central Square has seen the most activity this month with 3 incidents, followed by Harvard Square with 2.
- There have been 16 larcenies from buildings reported through January 29, 2018. This represents a 24% drop (-5 incidents) below the 21 reported in January 2017 and a 41% decrease below the 5-year average of 27. There are no patterns or trends in the city at the present time.
- Larcenies from residences finished 2017 with a decrease of 31% below 2016, but this trend has reversed in January 2018 with a 54% rise (+7 incidents) over January of last year. Package thefts from doorsteps and lobbies have represented 70% of the thefts from residences in January 2018 (14 of the 20). Cambridgeport saw the most citywide with 5.
- Final totals for 2017 show that there were 303 bikes reported stolen last year, down -19% from 2016. Bike theft numbers continue to drop this year, with only 1 theft reported in January 2018. This is 86% below the 7 reported last January. The lone bike theft was in Mid-Cambridge.

LARCENY From MV

No Patterns

- Larcenies from MVs slid downward 9% for the first month of 2018 when compared with January of 2017 with one fewer theft reported. This property crime has also declined 67% when measured against the 5-year average, with 20 fewer incidents than the projected total of 30 thefts.
- Last year the Crime Analysis Unit labelled the January 2017 total of larcenies from motor vehicles in a non-snowstorm-effected month a stunningly low number for this crime type. That characterization is repeated for the total of ten larcenies from motor vehicles during the first month of 2018. At the present time, there are no operational patterns, series or hot spot concentrations involving larceny from motor vehicles anywhere in Cambridge.
- A review of 3rd & 4th quarter larceny from motor vehicle activity in the city revealed the following: patterns in West and North Cambridge fueled a 105% increase in larcenies from motor vehicles from September to October. Arrests in early November reversed the trend and propelled a 28% decrease (-11 incidents) in this crime type when compared with the previous month (-52%). At the year's end, this crime type dropped 22%.

- After a variable year that eventually ended in an overall decrease in 2017, larcenies from the person through the first month of 2018 have continued in a downward fashion and finished at 7 through Jan. 29. This is 22% below January 2017 (2 fewer incidents) and is 50% below the 5-year average of 14.
- Incidents dropped off slightly over the past four weeks, with this crime slipping from 8 in December to 6 in January.
- Central Square has seen the most activity through the first month of 2018 with three incidents, followed by Harvard Square with two. The Galleria/East Cambridge and the MIT/Kendall Square area have each seen one.
- The majority of incidents have involved thefts from patrons while dining, pocket-picking incidents, or the theft of unattended items that victims left behind.
- 2017 Review:
 - Activity in 2017 was at first a mix of highs and lows, with every other month seeing a spike in activity. Ultimately the year ended substantially lower than the previous year, with a final total of 158 thefts, a 29% reduction from 2016.

AUTO THEFT

No Patterns

- The projected 5-year weighted average for auto thefts through January 29 is 6 incidents. With 6 thefts reported thus far in 2018, we are even with the average and 20% (1 incident) above the number reported during this time frame in 2017.
- In the most recent four weeks compared to the previous four weeks, there has been an increase of 50%, or 2 incidents (from 4 in Dec. to 6 in Jan.).
- Notably, 5 of the 6 auto thefts reported in January 2018 involved vehicles that were rented from Hertz or Thrifty Rental Cars in West Cambridge and were never returned. Only one has been recovered to date. This seems to be a growing trend in the area.
- The 6 auto thefts reported thus far in 2018 took place in West Cambridge (5, all from rental car companies) and East Cambridge (1).
- 2017 Review:
 - There were 91 total auto thefts reported in 2017. This is 24% (28 incidents) below the 5-year average of 119 and 17% (19 incidents) below the number reported during this time frame in 2016.
 - To date, 43 of the 91 vehicles reported stolen in 2017 (or 47%) have been recovered.
 - East Cambridge saw the most stolen autos in 2017 with 16, followed by W. Cambridge with 13, Mid-Cambridge with 10, Inman, Cambridgeport, and Peabody with 9, N. Cambridge with 8, The Port with 7, Riverside with 5, MIT with 2, and Agassiz, the Highlands, and Strawberry Hill with 1.
