Introduction
City-wide COVID-19 Grants and Loans
CDBG & HUD-CARES Act Grant Programs

Relief, Recovery, and Winter Grants were funded through Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) from the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as well as HUD-CARES Act Funding. Funds were available to CDBG-eligible brick and mortar businesses.

CDBG eligibility guidelines ensure that federal funding assists residents and businesses in predominantly low-moderate income areas (known as Neighborhood Revitalization Strategy (NRS) areas) or are low-moderate income micro-enterprises.

An eligible Cambridge brick and mortar business owner either has a business location in the NRS area(s), a home address in the NRS area(s) or is a micro-enterprise business.
Mayor’s Disaster Relief Fund & Cambridge Redevelopment Authority

Round 1 (Spring 2020) distributed grants through the City of Cambridge Mayor’s Disaster Relief Fund (MDRF) and loans offered by the Cambridge Redevelopment Authority (CRA) which targeted brick and mortar businesses outside CDBG-eligible areas and home-based businesses located in Cambridge.

Round 2 (Spring 2021) distributed grants only (no loan component) through both MDRF and CRA which prioritized those who hadn't received any prior city, state, or federal government funding, Women- and Person of Color-owned businesses, and small businesses owners who make (or have employees who make) less than $75,000/year.
