About the Cambridge Bicycle Plan Update

The 2015 Cambridge Bicycle Plan was developed with the input of thousands of people who care about our city. The Plan outlines policies and goals, provides information on the breadth and depth of supporting programs, and presents a vision for an expanded network. The Plan continues to guide City efforts and programs, but much has already changed in a few short years.

Through this 2020 update, we will incorporate our new policies, review data, and gather input on how things are working and what people's hopes are for the future. As we expand our opportunities we want to look at where we are in the development of the network, and plan mindfully for the next opportunities in the near and longer terms. Part of the work will include pulling together feasibility analyses for future roadway work, as well as a prioritization plan for the development of the network.
