GSO Owner and Operator Experience

Taba Moses, Founder/Chief Executive Officer

Boston-resident Taba Moses, owner of Green Soul Organics, an experienced real estate developer and entrepreneur. Son of Robert Parris Moses, the architect of “Freedom Summer” and a leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Alexander Heredia, Chief Financial Officer

Alexander joins GSO after 15 years of executive experience at BlackRock leading teams and managing full life-cycle project implementations of Financial Reporting platforms. He brings the experience needed to build and manage the financial infrastructure GSO will need to expand its product and service offerings and advance its growth initiatives.

Richard Harding, Vice President, Chief Compliance Officer

Boston-resident and President of the GreenSoul Foundation, Richard has been influential in addressing structural racism in education, employment and policing in Boston. Richard currently runs the Men of Color Health Initiative of the Cambridge Public Health Department.

His work as a consultant for CambridgeWorks, a job training program, and his efforts on the successful Campaign to Regulate Marijuana like Alcohol in Massachusetts have motivated Harding to ensure that people of color have the training and skills they need to seize opportunities.
GSO Owner and Operator Experience

Dawn Martin, Marketing
Dawn is a marketing professional with 10 years of experience in the retail and publishing industries. She joins GSO from the Improper Boston Magazine where she conceptualized creative marketing/strategy plans and executed dynamic projects.

Saba Kahassai, Retail Manager
Saba is a Boston-resident and an experienced retail strategist who led major merchandising initiatives at major retail companies such as GAP, Inc. and Gilt Groupe. In her most recent assignment with NIC & ZOE, Saba developed a metrics-based process for in-season product performance analysis and evaluation.

Amine Benali, Capital Advisor
Amine is a CFA and brings 25 years of experience in managing multi-billion-dollar investment funds, financing large global natural resources projects, advising and financing community-scale projects, and building equitable capital ecosystems that support inclusive economic growth and democratized wealth-building.

The GreenSoul Foundation – Current Community Work

- Distributed thousands of masks and hand sanitizer to:
  - First responders
  - Housing developments
  - Small local and minority-owned businesses
  - Houses of correction and other vulnerable populations lacking basic protections in Cambridge and Boston.

- Actively working with the Last Prisoner Project (LPP) to provide hand sanitizer to protect the incarcerated during the Covid-19 crisis.

- Organizing parents from underserved neighborhoods to advocate for effective remote learning for children in public schools. Hosted local education forums for parents focused on the challenges of supporting and educating the most vulnerable children during the pandemic.
On behalf of Suffolk County Sheriff Steven W. Tompkins and the men and women of the Suffolk County Sheriff’s Department, we want to thank Anthony Robinson Seymour (left) of Youth In Crisis, Taba Moses of the Green Soul Foundation and Richard Harding, President of the Green Soul Foundation (not shown) for their generous donation of masks to the Department.
Provided technical assistance for a City of Boston economic empowerment applicant for over a year, providing payments for legal and architectural fees as well as assistance with design work, and navigating through the City of Boston’s licensing process.

Donated and distributed 500 backpacks to needy children and families for “back to school” effort focused on getting children ready for school and boosting school attendance.

Donated over 1000 turkeys with Massachusetts State Representative Liz Miranda to families in underserved communities for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Worked with local leaders to reach 200 children with Christmas donations.

The Foundation hired and worked with lawyers to intervene in the case in Cambridge which can now be used around the state and country as case law for Equity for other economic empowerment applicants.

GreenSoul Organics Artist Collaboration

Street Theory activates communities, spaces, and global brands through street-art, experiential marketing, cultural placemaking, branding and design.

Street Theory brings art and street culture into all aspects of life and work-- from curating and producing events to empowering communities and working with some of today's most talented and influential local and global artists.

GSO will collaborate with Street Theory to offer a seasonal rotating display of artwork by local artists.

Artist-owned agency, founded by Liza Quiñonez and renowned graffiti/street-artist Marka27.
The Last Prisoner Project (LPP) uses a multifaceted approach to address the disparities in sentencing for cannabis offenses and the collateral consequences of those arrests and convictions. LPP works to redress these disparities through policy work, legislative advocacy, and impactful direct service programs that work to both release nonviolent cannabis offenders from incarceration and to assist those coming out of incarceration in rebuilding their lives through reentry programs and anti-recidivism efforts.

Last Prisoner Project will engage in a collaboration with GreenSoul Organics (GSO) to provide reentry programs and rehabilitation services once the facility is open.
