Description

Cambridge Creative Development is holding a virtual meeting for neighbors of 62-64 Prospect Street to share information on a proposed residential development. The project consists of a new ground-up building containing seven (7) residential condominium units, including two accessible first-floor units. The design includes flood-resilient site and building measures consistent with City of Cambridge requirements.

Neighbors are invited to join online to review the proposal, ask questions, and share feedback before the project proceeds through the City's permitting process.
