The Citywide Plan will craft a shared vision for a more livable, sustainable, and equitable city. It will include a broad range of topics such as housing, transportation, economic opportunity, urban form, and climate and the environment.

We organized focus groups to reach underrepresented groups.

Working with Community Engagement Team (CET) to reach out to underserved populations.

- Linguistic minorities and American-born blacks
- Other focus groups to be formed later

Working with CET, we organized small focus groups to meet with members of these communities.

- Events took place in early April.

Languages in Greatest Need of Translation Services in Cambridge

We held a “What’s the Plan?” panel to introduce the project.

First large Envision Cambridge event was on February 11 at the Cambridge Public Library.

- Lively discussion of topics ranging from urban agriculture and mobility, to challenges with current development and need to engage with wide range of community members.
- 100+ community members attended

Panelists

- Tim Love, Utile
- Dan D’Oca, Interboro
- Kevin Hively, Ninigret
- Lisa Jacobson, Nelson\Nygaard
- Ariella Maron, BuroHappold

We are conducting multiple surveys, in multiple forms.

What have we been asking people?

Survey 01: Listening

(also administered online and in public workshops, March-April)

Survey 02: Visioning

(May-June)

ENVISION CAMBRIDGE

Survey 01

Envision Cambridge is a community-wide process to develop a comprehensive plan for a more livable, sustainable, and equitable Cambridge. With input from those who live, work, study, and play in our city, Envision Cambridge will create a shared vision for the future of our city. The plan will result in recommendations on a broad range of topics such as housing, mobility, economic opportunity, urban form, and climate and the environment.

Cambridge, today

When you think of Cambridge, what words or phrases come to mind? (don't think too hard!)

What do you love about Cambridge?

What would you change about Cambridge?

What do you hope the plan will address?

Cambridge, in the future

Envision Cambridge will discuss a broad range of issues. Tell us what matters most to you.

- ___ Mobility and transportation (traffic, parking, biking and walking, transit)
- ___ Housing (affordability, types available)
- ___ Social cohesion (seniors and accessibility, community, income inequality)
- ___ Urban form (buildings, open space)
- ___ Environment (climate change, resilience)
- ___ Economy (jobs, training, job sectors)
- ___ Other:

Feel free to elaborate on the issues most important to you in the space below:

Survey write-in comments: concerns

More and more, the city feels like two cities.

Opportunities for Cantabrigians of all types and education levels.

My priority is people and ensuring that Cambridge welcomes everyone.

The city remains very familiar even after decades, in spite of huge changes.

Pricing out young and middle-income people will make a community boring or unbalanced.

Middle class families are being pushed out and we need to focus on building housing, open space, local retail for them.

Regional planning outside of Cambridge has a lot of impact.

Survey write-in comments: suggestions

Plan holistically, not project-by-project.

Having affordable housing available is critical to the fabric of the community.

Each of the plan's issues are important and interrelated.

Preserve the character of the neighborhood while expanding housing options to keep up with growth.

Beyond housing, the citywide conversation and planning efforts need to be better synthesized in how open space, health, transportation, etc. become collectively woven.

Do not forget about middle-class families.

Make Cambridge a net zero city and model for the nation and the world.

We held Public Workshops to hear from the community.

Three public workshops

- Thu, Mar 24, Kennedy-Longfellow School Cafeteria
- Thu, Mar 31, Tobin School Cafeteria
- Sat, Apr 2, Senior Center, 806 Massachusetts Avenue
- Approximately 130 community members attended

Team listened to community members on what is important to them for the plan

- We solicited top concerns beforehand through an online survey, street teams, and live-polling at the start of the workshop.

We created a Mobile Engagement Station.

What is it?

- The Mobile Engagement Station is a 4' x 8' interactive model of Cambridge. The Station has three layers.

1. The top layer is a 3D model of Cambridge showing all the buildings in the city.
2. The second layer is a map of Cambridge color-coded by land use and showing all streets and building footprints.
3. The last layer consists of stools in the shape of each of Cambridge's neighborhoods.

We created a Mobile Engagement Station.

What have we been asking people to do?

Draw on the model:

- Draw your commute or another frequent route through the city in black
- Circle favorite places in green and write words that come to mind
- Do same for least favorite places in red
- Do same for things you'd like to see in the future in blue

WELCOME!

Welcome to Envision Cambridge Newsletter, a free publication produced by the Envision Cambridge Team.

Since Envision Cambridge was launched in November, the Team has been busy trying to understand what makes Cambridge tick. Whether we are collecting, analyzing, and interpreting housing, transit, or climate change data, interviewing experts about Cambridge's past, present, and future, or talking to Cambridge community members about what they love about their city and what's important to them, we're always discovering new things about this amazing city.

We made this newspaper so that readers can learn as we learn. We want to give people a window into the planning process and let Cambridge community members see the things we see, meet the people we meet, and hear some of the feedback that we hear.

Envision Cambridge Newsletter features maps, data, history, fun facts, portraits of public spaces, and interviews with Cambridge residents, community leaders, and experts. The features will highlight lesser-known aspects of the city and its neighborhoods.

Envision Cambridge Newsletter will serve as a diverse portrait of a diverse city.

This inaugural issue is an introduction. Future issues will be more topical and will focus on housing and the economy, mobility and the environment, urban form, and other topics that are important to the plan. However, while the topics will change from issue to issue, many of the features presented here are regular ones that will appear in future issues.

Happy reading!

HELP US SPREAD THE WORD!

Envision, mostly, this newsletter. These are but a few of the ways in which we get the word out about Envision Cambridge. We need your help to spread the word. Since we started working on Envision Cambridge in November, we have been maintaining a database of flying locations. We could use your help as we try to expand this database. Is there a location that is central to you, your friends, and your community that you think would be good for flyers? If so, please send an email to envision@cambridgema.gov. Please include "flying location" in the subject line.

GUESS WHAT!

29.7% of Cambridge residents are enrolled in a full time or part time in college or graduate school degree programs.
