Please join us for a lunchtime discussion between the Cambridge Women's Commission, Cambridge Mayor Sumbul Siddiqui, and the Massachusetts Commission on the Status of Women (MCSW) highlighting MCSW's timely report, Childcare and Education during COVID-19: A Report on the Economic and Social Impact on Women in Massachusetts.

"Statewide, more than half of women whose jobs have been affected by childcare and educational upheaval said they had pulled back at work or were thinking of doing so, according to an October report by the Massachusetts Commission on the Status of Women; a fifth said they were considering quitting their jobs altogether. Women in lower-income households felt the burden of these child-care-related disruptions even more acutely."
