There's an editorial in Monday's Globe about how buildings can be designed to reduce the spread of pandemics: schools should be designed with many of the same features already used in hospitals.

https://www.bostonglobe.com/2020/04/06/opinion/role-architecture-fighting-pandemic/