

Provide Feedback: Cambridge St. Survey

To enable people of all ages and abilities to travel more safely between Harvard and Inman Squares, the City of Cambridge implemented separated bicycle lanes on Cambridge Street, between Quincy and Fayette Streets, as part of the Cambridge Street Bicycle Safety Demonstration Project. As an important part of the project assessment, the City is now seeking feedback from all community members, including those who walk, bike, drive, and use public transit on the street, through the survey and Wikimap below.
