Cambridgeport was hit hard over the summer. Hopefully, the arrest of a crew of juveniles in September will abate this increase.

Commercial Breaks: Third Quarter of 2012

3 commercial breaks in September in the 1700 to 1800 block of Mass Ave at a beauty salon, restaurant, and ATM - unrelated with disparate M.O.'s

1 break and 1 attempted break at a laundromat and restaurant in the 200 block of Cambridge Street on the weekend of August 19th. These 2 unprofessional smash & grabs remain under investigation.

9 of the 24 commercial burglaries that occurred in the third quarter clustered around Harvard Square. There were 4 in July, four in August and 1 in September. These breaks were unprofessional thefts from an eclectic grouping of premises that included churches, restaurants, cinemas, and research offices. The 2 arrests indicate that the majority of crimes were connected to the Harvard Sq Street scene.

Commercial burglary has dropped 19% when compared with the first 9 months of 2011, and with 13 fewer incidents recorded, and has dropped 16% when measured against the 5-year average. However, after recording only 5 commercial breaks in August, there were 9 in September. The 57 commercial burglaries in 2012 have been scattered throughout the City with no discernible spatial or temporal pattern identified.

Major patterns were also identified in this area during the third quarter of last year. For the previous 3 third quarters between 2007 and 2010, this neighborhood averaged 11 housebreaks. In the middle of the past decade, housebreak patterns in this area were fairly common during the summer. What did the patterns of the past 2 years and those of the past decade have in common? ## Emerging Patterns

- Overall, larceny increased by 8% when compared with the first 3 quarters of 2011 and dropped just slightly (1%) when measured against the 5-year weighted average.
- The increase in larceny from motor vehicles (+17%) can be attributed to a surge in thefts during the snowless First Quarter of this year when compared with the first 3 months of 2011 when there were 70 inches of snow on the ground. Recent increases in this crime type have been seen in the Central Sq area, in Mid-Cambridge, and in West Cambridge, leading to an 18% rise in car breaks from August to September in 2012.
- Despite a 10% decrease in larcenies from persons in September when compared with the previous 4 weeks, this crime type is still up 28% when compared to last year. However, this is down from the 38% increase reported in August, so incidents may be evening out.
- So far this year, there have been 307 reported bike thefts in Cambridge, which is 3% above the 297 reported through this time frame in 2011.
